PORK PICKIN'S

Appomattox Pork Producers

Hog markets continued their erratic trend while profit margins remain on the downward trend. Hog slaughter was running about 25,000 head per week behind that of a year ago. The hog corn ratio for the week encinding Nov. 17 was 16.9, compared with 18.0 the previous week and 20.4 a year earlier.

The continued decline in the hog-corn ratio combined with shortages of feed supplies fertilizer, fuel, and electrical power a severe shortage of red meats could become a real thing by next year this time. Most farmers have too much invested to operate for a very long period with a hog-corn ratio of less than 18.0 and thus many will lower their operations instead of enlarging them to supply more red meats.

The Virginia Pork Industry Conference will take place at Richmond Airport Holiday Inn on Dec. 4th thru 6th. Any pork producers who can find time to attend one or more days in at all possible.

ENERGY TALKS

By Warren B. Davis
Director, Energy Economics
Gulf Oil Corporation

"Looking at the energy situation from another perspective, is the United States running out of fuel."

"No, the United States is not running out of fuel. We have very large undeveloped fuel resources in this country. The largest perhaps is coal with on the order of three trillion tons in-place. The second largest is perhaps oil shale with something on the order of two trillion barrels in-place. The problem is that we need to develop these very large undeveloped fuel resources of the United States and in order to do this, we need governmental policies that will foster that development."

Mr. Davis was principal author of the National Petroleum Council's "U.S. Energy Outlook" prepared for the U.S. Interior Department.
